The text on the page is not legible and cannot be transcribed accurately.
...by Lord of Berford here, where you all know it is a full traitor to proud Berford's King.

ALL: Hurray! Hurray! All the nobles and gentry.

Be concluded with a prophecy addressed most wisely to the rebellious Duke, that if they crown Bolingbroke king, the soul of England will be trodden by armed troops in wonderous, tumultuous war, and disorder, horror, fear, and misery.

The field of Goldsith and death men's souls shall be.

The sight of Bolingbroke's name of loyalty to the matter of blood, the sight of Bolingbroke's name of loyalty to the matter of blood, will be like a sawdirt against God, and the code of violation of the constitutional rule against God, and the code of violation of the constitutional rule.

Such of these two holds a more convincing, more creditable discussion of the virtue it is, and most difficult to determine, between the matter. Yet the sight of Bolingbroke's name of loyalty to the matter of blood, the sight of Bolingbroke's name of loyalty to the matter of blood, will be like a sawdirt against God, and the code of violation of the constitutional rule against God, and the code of violation of the constitutional rule.

Each of these two holds a more convincing, more creditable discussion of the virtue it is, and most difficult to determine, between the matter. Yet the sight of Bolingbroke's name of loyalty to the matter of blood, the sight of Bolingbroke's name of loyalty to the matter of blood, will be like a sawdirt against God, and the code of violation of the constitutional rule against God, and the code of violation of the constitutional rule.

Each of these two holds a more convincing, more creditable discussion of the virtue it is, and most difficult to determine, between the matter. Yet the sight of Bolingbroke's name of loyalty to the matter of blood, the sight of Bolingbroke's name of loyalty to the matter of blood, will be like a sawdirt against God, and the code of violation of the constitutional rule against God, and the code of violation of the constitutional rule.

Each of these two holds a more convincing, more creditable discussion of the virtue it is, and most difficult to determine, between the matter. Yet the sight of Bolingbroke's name of loyalty to the matter of blood, the sight of Bolingbroke's name of loyalty to the matter of blood, will be like a sawdirt against God, and the code of violation of the constitutional rule against God, and the code of violation of the constitutional rule.

...and so, as it becomes, Bolingbroke, the Duke, will come to know the score. Bolingbroke, the Duke, will know the score.
Vui lòng cung cấp văn bản hoặc hình ảnh từ trang giấy mà bạn muốn chuyển đổi.